Governor Godwin Recognizes Volunteer Rescue Squads

The week of May 18 through May 24 has been designated Rescue Squad Week by the Virginia Association of Volunteer Rescue Squads and Governor Mills E. Godwin recently signed a Certificate of Recognition in which he urged the citizens of Virginia to join him in recognizing the members of the volunteer rescue squads during Rescue Squad Week.

The Certificate of Recognition, as signed by the Governor, read as follows: 'By virtue of the authority vested by he Constitution in the Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, there is hereby officially recognized: Rescue Squad Week 1975.

"Responding at all hours to emergencies involving people of every kind, the Rescue Squads of Virginia form a lifesaving network across our Commonwealth.

"Manned largely by volunteers, theirs is an enviable record in reducing human suffering.

"Each year the Virginia Association of Volunteer Rescue Squads, Incorporated, observes Rescue Squad Week falling this year during the period, May 18-24, and I call its importance to the attention of all our people." Signed Mills E. Godwin, Jr., Governor.

We, the citizens of Appomattox County, should join in and recognize the volunteer members of our fine Appomattox County Rescue Squad and continue the support we have always given the rescue squad.
